

CONFIDENTIAL

JOURNAL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Tuesday - 13 March 1973

25X1 1. [ ] Senator Sam Nunn (D., Ga.) breakfasted at Headquarters with the Director and Messrs. Houston, Bruce Clarke and Maury. He was especially interested in what could be done about leaks of classified information and was told of our efforts, with Justice Department, to tighten up the laws especially regarding sources and methods. Houston gave him a summary study of the problem.

The Senator asked for suggestions on matters he should focus on in order to be useful in the Senate. The Director suggested he might concentrate on terrorism and narcotics--two subjects in which we were involved and on which we would be happy to brief him. He would also like to have some unclassified reading material on these subjects which we will try to supply.

The Senator said he would also like to be helpful to the Agency in any way and we said we would appreciate his advice and guidance on legislation to tighten up our security protection.

Nunn indicated his desire for periodic briefings on major developments, and said he would like to come out for such a briefing and tour the Headquarters at an early date.

25X1 2. [ ] Accompanied the Director, Mr. Colby and Mr. Shackley to a joint meeting of the CIA Subcommittees of Senate Armed Services and Senate Appropriations. See Memo for the Record.

25X1 3. [ ] Talked to Jim Calloway, Senate Appropriations Committee staff, who said he would like to make sure he is fully informed in advance of any future meetings we plan to make with Chairman McClellan. I said we would keep this in mind, and would also recommend that he visit us for a general briefing about our relations with the Committee, how we present our budget, Reserve withdrawals, etc., at his convenience. He said he would be available any time and I said I would call him.

25X1

CONFIDENTIAL